Eid Al-Adha

Eid al-Adha, the Festival of Sacrifice, also called al-ʿĪd al-Kabīr, meaning Major Festival, is the second of two great Muslim festivals. Eid al-Adha marks the culmination of the hajj. Muslims celebrate it throughout the world. During the festival, families sacrifice a ritually acceptable animal (sheep, goat, camel, or cow) to do so and then divide the flesh equally among themselves, the poor, and friends and neighbors. The day of Eid-ul-Adha falls on the tenth day in the final (twelfth) month of the Islamic Lunar Calendar, Dhu-al-Hijjah. The day that celebrations fall on depends on a legitimate sighting of the moon, following the completion of the annual Holy Pilgrimage of Hajj.

Wishing you peace, joy, and good health.

May Allah bless you always!

Tower Access – Rules & Regulations

Electronic Access Control has become an essential, efficient and flexible way of securing EFT building for the reception & security team. The building facility aims to balance general convenience whilst strict security. With the help of the access control system, monitoring and controlling remotely or operating automatically is much more convenient and giving authorized personnel access to specific staff or visitors upon mandatory confirmation received from the visiting office.

Tenant/Employee Access

Owner or tenants and company employees, upon registration in the building, are issued with their own permanent tower access card with a policy of one (1) access card per person. Therefore, everyone is required to carry their tower access card at all times. Such cards have specific access only to either the South or North Tower in which their unit/office is located.

Visitor Access

Access to the retail area is open to the public, and daily building passes will not be required. To access the offices, visitors must register and provide a valid ID in the reception to obtain a visitor's pass. Each visitor will be issued individual access cards as one (1) card allows access for one (1) person only. As part of security measures, visitors may be questioned regarding the purpose of their visit is required for safety reasons. Suppose the visitor cannot produce a valid ID to obtain a visitor's pass. In that case, the reception will request the host office to assist their respective guest in the C level. Visitors should return the access card after the visiting period. Access Card is not allowed in custody for more than one (1) day; otherwise, the unreturned card will be deactivated.
