Expo 2020 Dubai is a world that inspires people by showcasing the best of collaboration and innovation from around the world. The small actions taken make a major impact for a better future. It offers interactive exhibition journey that portrays in the midst of the most fundamental global challenges and the potential of individuals and communities.

The Expo 2020 provides visitors with breathtaking views from the ground with a rotating observation tower designed as a bird's eye view and a circular window on the top of the building that allows visitors to gaze into the distance, similar to how the Burj Khalifa provides view of Dubai's landscape. The United Arab Emirates, which has a history of breaking records, will host the world's largest 360-degree projection surface on Al Wasl Plaza's steel dome in the Opportunity Pavilion, which is made of 2,500 tons of stone and 111 kilometers of rope. District 2020 (the Expo site) will become a significant economic growth center, according to the Dubai 2040 Urban Master Plan. In the run-up to and after Expo 2020, the UAE will have numerous chances for commercial and economic growth. The 'long-lasting legacy' is driven by the fact that over 80% of the Dubai Expo 2020 site will be repurposed, with an emphasis on infrastructure and cutting-edge technologies in four major industries: real estate, education, tourism, and transportation and logistics.
