New Four And Half Days Work Life In UAE

The United Arab Emirates has made a significant shift in weekend days from Friday and Saturday to Saturday and Sunday, resulting in a shorter workweek. The new weekend was created to better align the UAE's economy with world economy and to support international talent and investment. The UAE was the first country in the world to implement a national working week which is shorter than the global five-day week. This allows employees to increase their performance and engage in events they may not have been able to do previously, such as excelling academically or going to travel, allowing them to strengthen ties with family members and friends, which can have a positive impact on their mental health and work efficiency fostering a liberal atmosphere on weekends.

Every New Year, everyone prepares themselves to be great, through a series of efforts.

GENERAL NOTICE

Building Improvements

SEAPAGE

The seepage is damage to wall and ceilings caused by water trip. The most affected areas are in Basement 3 parking. The rectification was approved, and work is already in progress.

30% of the work has been carried out while the remaining 70% is anticipated its completion in 3 ½ month.

Master Community Rules

Parking Speed Limit

The EFT parking has maximum speed limit of 20 kmph. No vehicle, regardless of type, may be operated in a dangerous, aggressive, or obnoxious manner. Any acceleration or driving that the building deems dangerous will will be regarded a significant violation of these rules and will be dealt with accordingly. Speed Rule requires vehicle operators to drive at a speed that is reasonable and prudent. When approaching the exit and turning or passing another vehicle, and going around a curve, everyone must drive at a safe and appropriate speed.

FEATURED EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH

“ Ecstatic to be working at EFT since I am developing skills in a comfortable environment. Having skills and experience that I can provide to the team.
